FIGHTING FOR HAPPY HOMES. George E. Bertrand, Alonzo P. Tukey, Jennie C. Wilson, Estella Davis, William Karbach, Katey Clark, Maria Ittner, Jeremiah O'Hearn, Michael Swift, Martin T. Murphy,

The Citizens of Omaha Who Are Sued by Helfenstein.

HISTORY OF THE CELEBRATED CASE.

Opening of the November Term of the United States Circuit Court-Anticipated Appearance of Judge Caldwell.

The November term of the United States circuit court opened yesterday morning. The room was crowded with well-known attorneys from all parts of the state. Judge Dundy announced that Judge Cald well had not arrived, but would probably reach the city some time this week and would hold court in the small court room on the second floor.

He also announced that the Helfenstein cases would be taken up as soon as the jury was empanelled and suggested that as many of the defendants as had not already done so, combine and have all the cases tried at once combine and have all the cases tried at once in order to dispose of them.

"If this is not done," remarked the judge dryly, "no one living at the present time can tell how long it will take to try them."

The plaintiff's counsel said the plaintiff was ready and willing to make any arrangement for expediting matters and cited authorities for making test cases where the thorities for making test cases where the issues involved were identical. Another of the counsel for the plaintiff informed the court that arrangements had been made to try two or three cases and let the law points hold in all the other cases, and a stipulation to that effect would be filed.

The court then announced that it would

Charles Ogden, Andrews Olsen, Homer P.
Lewis, Fred T. Andrews.
Idlewild Addition—Thomas C. Hendryx,
William H. Vinegar, William E. Riddell,
Lizzie B. Samson, George A. Hoagland, FredericksSoanenschein, John B. Rowiey,
Charles W. Conkling.

Charles W. Coukling.

Reed's Fourth Addrtion—James H. Mc-Shane, Charles C. Williams, Sarah A. Glenn, Mary Houck, Anna O'Boyle, Patrick Mostyn, Joseph B. Southard, Edwin H. Sherwood.

Axford's Addition—Lulu J. E. Heuck, Josiah W. Axford, Eliezer C. Axford, Caractacus Axford, Charles W. Hays, William Sievers, J. F. Wilhelmy, John T. Murphy.

John T. Paulsen's Addition—Henry D.
Frost, Walter C. Kelley, Kate Walfer,
William S. Bishop, Daniel F. Kelley, August
Weiss, Clementine Weiss, Nellie Holmes, L.

O. Hall, P. Devries, Carlos, D. Woodworth Charles Schlank, Solomon Prince, Annie Mc Bride, Maggie McKenna, J. F. Wilhelmy William Sievers, Edmund Paulsen, J. K.

John P. Helfenstein, notice of which

John P. Helfenstein, notice of which was overlooked by the press; mention of which may be of interest at this date. They were as follows: Against Wilhelmina Baumann, widow of Joseph Baumann, brewer, for the undivided half of a tract of off of the north side of reserve, block 1, in E. V. Smith's addition to the city of Omaha and against Marthena Saunders, wife of ex-

United States Senator Saunders, for the un divided half of the south 259.16 feet of said reserve, block 1, in E. V. Smith's addition to HEREDITY OF CRIME.

Curious Phases and the Direful Results of Inherited Disease.

Doubtless crime is often committed from

The identity of "Jack, the Ripper" remains undiscovered, so we do not know what impelled him to the commission of his atrocious crimes. Little doubt he was insane, his actions controlled by an abnormal condition of the mind; it is plain none of the ordinary reasons for crime prevailed in his case. He was, perhaps, a victim of some hereditary taint, which drove him to acts against which his will revolted and from which, in his rational moments, his soul recoiled in horror.

A French novelist of realism makes the hero of a late novel of such a character. He hero of a late novel of such a character. He was a locomotive engineer, a thoroughy competent and reliable man; but if he chanced to behold the white throat of a woman, a wild phrenzy seized him; he could not control a desire to plunge a knife into it.

He was aware of his infirmity, fought it with stubborn will, denied himself the society of women, and for years controlled himself. At last he meets his fate; finds piensure in her society, with no return of his oid longing for blood, until he flatters himself he is safe. But one night she meets self he is safe. But one night she meet him with gleaming throat bare; the uncon trollable impulse seizes him; he cannot re-sist; as she throws her loving arms about him he thrusts the knife into her neck, and falls, a victim to the madness of tainted

Fortunately for the victims of ordinary ical assistance obtainable, that I was given up by friends and physicians, as beyound all recovery. In this extremity I was induced to try Warner's Safe Cure, which very soon gave me relief, and led me to persevere in its use, until I again became able to attend to my business. My case is well known in this community, and I feel fully warranted in recommending Warner's Safe Cure in cases of kidney disease, knowing full well that I would long since have been in my grave, had it not been for the use of this remedy.

Men and women inherit genius, talent, all mental and physical qualities; and it is now well established that all phases of physical as well as mental disease are transmissible.

Yesterday Afternoon's Fire.

house No. 5 at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The fire was in the celiar of a residence at 2618

St. Mary's avenue in which Jacob Harris, of per and excelsior could not be determined. The house was filled with smoke and the carpets were considerably damaged in the com above the fire. The entire damage will not exceed $300 and is covered by insurance.

Both air and water abound in microbes

An alarm of fire was rung in from engine

the city of Omaha.

the mere love of it

.84 feet in width by 547 feet in length

listen to motions in cases on the docket. In the case of Burnham, Tulleys & Co., against E. K. Valentine, judgement was entered for plaintiff by default. This was a case of foreclosure on property in West Point, the amount involved being about $1,800. The defendent had set up the plea of non-jurisdic-tion because the amount involved was less than $2,000, but the court decided that it had jurisdiction and cited, as authority for this rul-ing, the decision of the late Justice Miller in ing, the decision of the late Justice Miller in a similar case. Judge Dundy said this was contrary to his judgement of the matter, but as the supreme judge of this circuit had so decided he felt bound to abide by that decision until his ruling was set aside by the supreme court. The defendant was allowed an appeal to the supreme court.

In the case of the Newport savings bank against McBride et al. involving property in against McBride et al., involving property in Lincoln, Charles L. Burr was appointed receiver and ordered to report each mouth.

The plaintiff in the case of Lynch against the Union Pacific railway company for $4,000 for personal damages, asked leave to increase the amount prayed for to $10,000. Leave

The case of the Union Pacific railway company against the West Kerney improvement company, a suit in ejectment, was dismissed by consent without reason. In the case of Schell, administrator, against the Union Pacific railway company judg-ment was entered by consent for plainting in the sum of $750 and costs.

In the case of Ferdinand Streitz et al.
against the Union Pacific company, the plain tiff was given leave to file an amended peti tion, making the city a party defendant This is a suit to prevent the closing of Nine teenth street by the railway company, the latter claiming that no crossing exists at that point. The city declined to become a party point. The city declined to become a party with the plaintiffs and they propose to make Judgments by default were entered in the tollowing cases: Miner vs Goff; Miles et al vs Bissell; Lowery vs Hamer et al; Squire. trustee, vs Benson et al, against the defend ants, Heary B. Clark, H. B. Utley, James W. Squire, Oscar Howard and Hussey & Day Co.; Plano Manufacturing company vs

It is expected that the injunction case against the Nebraska City bridge bonds will come up today.

HELFENSTEIN'S CASE.

Its History and the Names of the People Affected by It. As appears from above, there is a prospect that the Helfenstein case will be at length reached in the United States court. The case is regarded by some as complicated, but is set forth plainly in the following statement by one of the oldest citizens and one of the best informed gentlemen on the subject in Omaha:

"The so-called Helfenstein claim date back to the year 1857. It originated in a claim of Heifenstein, Gore & Co., a wholesale grovery house of St. Louis, against Robert Shields. Shields built the store building on Farnam street now occupied by John Cau field, and did business there. He owed He enstein Gore & Co., a small amount for goods tained a judgment against him in 1858. Ex-ecution was issued on the undivided half of 160 acres of land in the north part of the city, lying between Sherman avenue on the east and Saunders street on the west, Shields having reviously sold the other undivided half. The interest levied upon by Helfen-stela, Gore & Co. was sold at sheriff's sale in July, 1858, and bought in by that firm for $65. There was only one house on the land at that time, and that was where Shields lived. That identical house is still standing or was a year or two ago, on the west side of Eighteenth street, near Grace, and is owned by John W. Givin, the contractor.

"Shields entered this land, that is, pur chased it from the government under the provisions of the pre-emption law, which gave to the first bona-fide settler the rights to buy the land at $1.25 per acre. "About 1859-60, the land had increased in value to such an extent as to bring on litigation by parties who thought they saw a chance to get it away from Shields. His entry was attacked. He was charged with fraud, etc., and his entry was cancelled and the land ordered by the commissioner of the general land office to be sold to the highest bidder.

It was accordingly sold at auction. E. V. Smith bought the eighty seres comprised in his addition to the city, and Gilbert C. Monell the other eighty acres. As the land increased in value the litigation increased. seems that the uncertainties of the law were as great then as now. The purchases of E. V. Smith and Monell were cancelled and the Shields entry reinstated. Then the case went into the United States circuit court, where the Snields entry was again cancelles and the entries of Smith and Monell rein stated. An appeal was then taken to the supreme court of the United States, pending which the whole matter was settled per manently.

"Helfonstein was a party to the suit and bis claim was adjusted with the others. This was nearly thirty years ago. It was considered a final settlement by all parties. The land was then laid out in additions to the city. The lots sold and improved and the entire tract is now nearly covered with buildings. The Helfenstein suits commenced ings. The Helfenstein suits commenced within the last year or two have not the alightest foundation in justice or equity but alightest foundation in justice or equity but throw a cloud over the title to the present owners, and a large price, proportionate the ability or credulity of the owner charged for a release or cancellation of the pretended claim. It is a very profitable busi-ness for Helfenstein or his lawyers and will doubtless continue to be until the cases can be reached in court. One owner paid $3,000 for a release some time since, being forced to property owners against whose undivided half holdings Helfenstein has com menced suit are as follows:

E. V. Smith's Addition—Clavin D. Schultz, Anna Leppert, Champion S. Chase, Barbara E. Clark, John Cosgrave, Henry J. Davis, Helena Bunke, J. S. Lytle, Victor Spanberg, Guimne Wug, Ellias Svenson, Albert Hoyt, Henry Copley, Joseph Schiller, Lucia G. Lee, John B. Angell, Lars H. Husdale, John McGarvey, Mary J. Ludlow, Jehiel P. Barndm, Patrick J. Price, Charles H. Puls, Edwina Chadwick, Joseph M. Haskell, Gustavus A. Streitz, Christen Hansen, George E. Gibson, James Ritchie James Lills, Thomas F. Barry, Frank A. B. Benoiken, John D. Ellis, William Henderson, Hanna M. Hartman, Thomas F. Mulligan, Alfred R. Dufrene, Thomas F. McNamee, Cyrus D. Beil, Joseph Miller, Caledonia Phillips, Otto E. Geigler, John Lutzelman, Mary Lutzelman, William White, Andrew Rosewater, Anna H. Sims, George William Peck, John Liddle, Martha Morton, E. V. Smith's Addition-Clavin D. Schultz, SKELETON OF A RIGHT HAND.

O'Hearn, Michael Swift, Martin T. Murphy, Gustave B. Hengen, Delos Thomas, Henry Leeder, Orson Stevenson, Nicholas M. Rummel, James U. Gridley, James A. Dalzeli, Henry Jones, Elling Amston, Samuel Nelson, Frank H. Spencer, Delia S. Sunderland, John W. Paul, Alden B. Walker, William Rause, Thomas H. Morton, John Ruef, James E. Rliey, William F. Allen, Harry Gilmore, Isaac Kaufman, Charles Karbach, Joseph Neville, Christian Wuethrich, Alfred Ramsey, Sarah McGuire, John B. Reeve, Henry Hall, David A. Thomas, Timothy Moriarity, Emma P. Annin, Thomas Evans, Ira T. Haskell, Alexander F. Wilkins, James Hodges, Johann E. Amston, Anna Johnson Moe, Maggie Cunningham, Charles P. Metcalf, John L. Spolin, William Hill, John W. Gwin, John D. Smith, Jennie Smith, Francis E. A. Wolcott, Peter J. Johnson, Fuller R. Smith, Ingred Johnson, David Knox, Mary M. Dennis, Mary A. Marnell, Cornelius Smith, Nelson Martin, Jacob Kaufman, Chris G. Rapp, Glared L. Hells, Gerbard. Strange Discovery of a St. Louis Man in a Montana Forest.

STILL CLUTCHED THE FLINT LOCK.

The Search of Two Men for the Lost Devil's Hoof Mine and the Tragic > Story Connected Therewith.

Henry Gormley, at present boarding at No. 221 south Main street, has in his Ingred Johnson, David Knox, Mary M. Dennis, Mary A. Marnell. Cornelius Smith, Nelson Martin, Jacob Kaufman, Chris G. Rapp, Clara U. J. Helin, Charles Gardner, Benjamin F. Barker, George W. Loomis, Keziah Teasdle, John P. Healy, Charles W. Garmony, Karen Hansen, Timothy Ryan, Mary Ellingwood, Omaha National bank, Charles Brosius, Emma Wadsworth, Jeremiah Kane, Carl Jahn, Noah S. Clark, John A. Wirth, George A. Wilson, Lizzle C. Brown Michael Foley, Jane Thomas, Andrew O. Busk, Mary Reeves, Anna M. Krebs, Edgar H. Scott, Mary Krenzer, Mary Ann Vapor, Perry M. Heckham, John L. McCague, Augustus Abendroth, Mary Weiner, John B. Furay, C. W. Carison, Frederick Christiansen, Alexander Richardson, Charles Storz, William Speilenberg, Caroline Anderes, Kate A. Bassett, George C. Brown, Mary A. Saffelden, Mary Knecht, William C. Thomas, James Reeves, The Omaha real estate and trust company, William S. Emery, Sidney Allen, Richard W. Montross, Gerhard S. Benawa, George Dickinson, George A. Vawten, Michael T. Golden, Charles Ogden, Andrews possession a map and travelers' guide of the United States printed in the year 1832. The relic is doubtless worth considerable money not only on account of its age, but because of the thrilling story linked to it, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mr. Gromley has had the map framed for preservation, and considering the number of years that have cast their rust upon it it is remarkably well kept. The paper of statistics and directions found with it, however, has not fared so well. Freat blotches of brown are strewn over its surface, and in many of the folds time has eaten the fiber completely away. The map is styled "Mitchell's Travelers' Guide Through the United States: A map of the roads, distances, steamboar and canal routes, by J. H. Young-S. Augustus Mitchell, Philadelpnia, 1832." It is in two colors, green and red, the latter being the body of the plat and the former the state lines. At once the examiner unconsciously looks for the western half of the map. But it is of the United States as they were then and not as they are known now. Missouri is the far west. West of Missouri is a blank marked neither with river, county lines nor state divisions, and, from the northern boundary of Mexico (which rises as high as Texas does now), to the unknown wastes of Great Britain's possessions, it is named the territory of Missouri. Arkansas is a territory and Nebraska, McClurkin.
Foster's Addition—Aleck Riddelt Charles E. Shaw, T. F. Ward, John M. or John H. Harberg, Gottlieb Elasser, Maurice Hengen, Glen S. Hengen, Lewis Heiser, Frank W. Hills, Julius A. Roeder, Anna M. McCague, Amos Phillips, Benjamin F. Fuller, Eawin F. Park, Amos J. T. Joslin, David D. Miller, George Hammond, James Donnelly, Martha Ball, Martha W. West, William V. Benson, Joseph Z. Briscoe, James Carter, Adelaide Irene Hoyt, Carlos D. Jones, Kinsley C. Morehouse Mary Louise Mansfield, James H. Indian territory and Kansas have no place upon the map. Almost the whole of Missouri, Minnesota and Wisconsin are barren of distinguished landmarks, and the battle grounds of 1812-'14 are down in bold black type upon the irregular outline of Louisiana. St. Louis, Chicago, Indianapolis, St. Paul and Cincinnati are mere hamlets, as indicated by their insignificant dots, the largest cities are New York, Phila-delphia, Boston, Baltimore and Charles-

Crossing and recrossing the map's surface, especially in the eastern states, are the public toll roads, taking the place of the present network of railroads, and marked in jagged lines on the waterways in and about the states are the steamship routes from place to

Joseph Z. Briscoe, James Carter, Adelaide Irene Hovt, Carlos D. Jones, Kinsley C. Morehouse Mary Louise Mansfield, James H. Mahler, Augustus Kountze, Gustave B. Hengen, Frank D. Mitchell, George C. Luck, John L. May, William M. Foster.

Penise's Addition—George McKenzie, sr., George McKenzie jr., Lewls V. Crum, Elijah A. Jenkins, Lucila E. Hamlin, Andrew J. Hunt, Alexander I. Young, Charles A. Wagner, Calvin H. Frederick, Alfred R. Dufrene, George M. Evans, Anna H. Thorne, Luther A. Harmon, Olive L. McCenley, George C. Ward, Lydia E. Morton, Jane F. Righter, Charles D. Bibbins, Ellen N. Pierce, Mozelle Morchouse, Marietta H. Gibson, Jacob C. Denise, Christian B. Johnson, Arthur P. Wood, Brigita Johnson, John M. Wilson, Niels Madsen, Elizabeth H. Charlton, Robert Wilson, James Anderson, Jennie Platz, Emily Angell, J. T. Cussman, Charles B. Ott, Charles S. Ades, Francis Butterfield, Charles F. Reed, John P. Lord, Elizabeth, Taylor, John B. Kuony, John M. Congleton, John J. Tomas, Julia Nestlebush, the Mutual trust corpany, Loyal S. Mole, H. M. Mole, Margaret W. Kimmel, John Nelson, Johanno Jacobson, Julia Ketchmark, Elinora Binkley, Willard B. Millard, Lemuel J. Parmalee, Caleb J. Gregg, G. Hensmann, M. Hensmann, Theodore P. Cartright, Mary D. Stoddard, Luther C. Toney.

Last January two suits were filed by Major O. F. Guthrie, attorney in fact for John P. Helfenstein, notice of which was overlooked by the press; meution of which The statistical record of the bygone days is even more interesting to study than the map. The union had then, it asserts, 12,852,858 persons living within its borders. In this population there were 5,354,078 white males; 5,170,154 white females; 153,443 free male black; 166,133 free female blacks; 1,012,822 male slaves and 996,228 female slaves. Missouri had 140,074 people then as against 56,586 in the year 1820; 19,783 in 1810, and none in 1800. Jefferson City is the only town of prominence, and seems contending for supremacy with thriving Cape Girardeau.

Who the original owner of the guide was and how he came to leave it in the wilds of Montana (where Mr. Gormley ound it) is a subject for speculation. Mr. Gormley, however, believes, that he can trace it to an unfortunate miner who died back in the early 50s while engaged in a frenzied hunt for a lost mine. In personal appearance Mr. Gormley is above the medium height, sandy haired and bearded, and indicates in his every movement the possession of sinews of steel. He talks fluently, uses good language, and owing to a peculiar ernest-ness of manner impresses one with implicit belief in all his statements. Yesterday afternoon he told the following interesting story of the "find" and the tragic death of Horace Thompson: "It was last May," began Mr. Gorm-ley, "and I was chopping timber in Chouteau county, Montana. We had moved our camp several times during the spring, each time passing deeper into the pine woods and getting farther and farther away from civilization. On the day I made this discovery we must have been at least twenty-five miles from a house. The weather was beautiful. Just sharp enough to send the blood singing through your veins and adding enough strength to your arms to send the axe an inch deeper into the bark than on a mile afternoon. was alone, but away off in the woods to the right and left of me the faint chuck. chuck, chuck of the other boys' axes could be heard, scarcely louder than the tapping of a woodpecker.

"I had started on my third tree since dinner. It was a pine, like all the others, and something over four feet through. As I stepped up and scanned it I failed to notice that it was hollow, but at the first stroke found that out But the reverberation given out was so dull that I judged the hollow to be very Fortunately for the victims of ordinary forms of inherited disease, they may protect themselves before it obtains dominance in the system. Inherited Kidney disease is especially dangerous, but may be successfully resisted. "In 1883 I was so near death's door with a inherited and complicated case of Bright's disease," writes James H. Dove, 217 Baldwin St., Alpena, Mich., August 11, 1890, which had baffied all remedies and medical assistance obtainable, that I was given up by friends and physicians, as beyound all all and of no consequence struck it again, and the axe-blade bedded itsel in the wood a fat squirrel leaped out of the trunk through an aperature about as big as a good-sized biscuit. 'A nest!' I exclaimed beneath my breath; 'we'll see to that!' and I at once set to work widening the cavity, meanwhile keeping a bright eye out for whatever might attempt to escape.

"The chips flew lively and the hole grew large enough to introduce one's nead. I noticed then that the wood cut off was nothing but bark grown inward with the aging of the tree, which doubtless would have completely covered the hole if given years enough. Suddenly I dropped my axe to the ground and thrust my hand into the hollow. There, lying at the bottom, on a soft bed of decaying wood, was a sheet of paper neatly folded. In it was the map and guide, exactly as you see it now, and they had surely been in that tree forty or fifty years. But the papers were not the only articles locked papers were not the only articles locked in that natural safe. "Leaning against the wall, muzzle up, as though placed their by its owner, was an old flintlock musket, such as our grandfathers sighted at New Orleans. And clinging to the barrel was some thing whiter than the papers. This ob ject rattled as I grasp the gun and slid down the iron tube until it fell over my

St. Mary's avenue in which Jacob Harris, or Zunder & Harris, the shoe dealers, resides. The fire had complete possession of the basement, but was soon extinguished by the use of the chemical engine. Whether the fire originated from defective furnace pipes or from a lighted match being thrown into a heap of waste paper and excelsior could not be determined. 'It was the skeleton of a right hand! "I didn't do much more work that afternoon. I bore my treasures off to camp and there examined them. You see for yourself what the travelers' guide is, and as for the musket, it did not differ materially from thousands of other germs of disease, ready to infect the debili-tated system. To impart that strength and vigor necessary to resist the effect of these permicious atoms, no tonic blood purifier equals Ayer' Sarsaparilla. old shooting irons. However, filed into the barrel, not many inches from the muzzle, were the letters H. E. T., evidently the initials of the owner. Poor fellow! His right hand had gripped that weapon unto death. Even death was powerless to wrench that musket from him. He meant to take it with him into that strange land unknown to us and protect his spirit with it there. At least forty, and probably fifty years that head, gun and guide had lain in the tree. I am sure of that, for the ingrow-ing bark that covered the hole must have taken that length of time to "And I believe I know the unfortunate who lost his hand. As I told of my find in camp that night one of the boys, who had been in Montana several years, gave the history of two men's search for the lost Devil's Hoof mine:

"Few knew of the existence of this nugget pocket, and as the early years of the gold times passed away, the people possessing the secret died one by one until a patriarchal Indian was the last left. He died, and in dying gave the birch-bark map of his location to a young trapper who watched at his deathbed. This trapper was Horace Thompson, who had come to the sunset and, like many others, for fame and fortune from the east.

cently buried Thompson took a friend into his confidence, and together they set out to find Devil's Hoof mine. But the confidence that Thompson gave his companion was but partial. He steadily refused to allow the other a sight of the map, and in other than general terms spoke not of the mine's whereabouts.
"They left mankind far to the south and westward and rode on for many days. Thompson's friend grew suspic-ious as they neared their destination, and at length resolved to get the map. He feared that when the gold was really found that Thompson would desert him and allow him to die in the wilderness. They had an altercation, but Thompson got the better of the mutineer. Fired for revenge, the other held his peace for some days until his chance should come.

It came at last, One evening Horace announced their journey about completed. As there was an extra gun and a number of other useless articles in their packs, they de-cided to hide them away for the time being, and perhaps get them on their return trip. A hollow tree was found, and Thompson, on his hands and knees, received the articles from his comrade and placed them, one by one, in the hole. As he took the musket and was setting it inside, the traitor raised a pick in the air and brought it down with terrific force upon the doomed Thompson, great spike was driven through skull and brain, and Horace died.

"'Hastily gathering their belongings into one pack, the false friend set off, after robbing the kneeling dead of the birch-bark map.

"But the murderer never found Devil's Hoof mine. He was set upon by a gang of white and red outlaws and killed. But before dying he confessed his crime to one of the Indians, who in turn told the story to a trader. The mine has never been discovered yet.'
"That is the yarn," concluded Mr. Gromley. "I am confident that H. K. T. stands for Horace K. Thompson. If but expect to keep the papers." MORIUARY.

they do, then, of course, the guide belonged to him, as well as did the musket. I disposed of the gun before coming east, Death of Fred Walter.

Mr. Fred Walter, the local agent of the Anheuser-Busch brewing association, died in his thirty-fourth year at his late residence, 1617 Wirt street, Sunday morning about 3 o'clock. He had been sick for less than a week, and, though a number of his friends knew that he was seriously indisposed, the announcement of his death gave them a shock such as they never experienced before. Indeed, when the news circulated through the city, there was not an individual who had known the deceased in life who did not at first doubt the authenticity of the rumor. The deceased had been so stout. strong, hearty and indeed so much the picture of health that it could not be befleved that he had been stricken so suddenly. And yet the information was well founded. The poor fellow passed away in agony at the time mentioned, his death bed being surrounded at the time with his wife, family and sympathetic friends.

The cause of Mr. Walter's death was a cold contracted last Saturday a week. He drove to Papillion, thence to Spring-field, thence to Gretna and finally home, a distance of about seventy miles. A chilling breeze arose toward evening. Mr. Walter had no heavy covering and when he reached his residence he complained of abdominat pains. These increased, causing him excessive pain which was relieved only by death.

Mr. Walter was born in St. Louis where with the wholesaling and manufacture of candles and, at the solicitation of Mr. George Krug the general agent of Anheuser-Busch brewing association of St Louis came to this city to act as local man ager for that corporation. The headquarters of the company were then located on the south-east corner of Capitol avenue and Ninth street. Shortly after Mr. Walter's arrival, a site was selected at the corner of Thirteenth and Jones streets, upon which larger buildings and warehouses were subsequently erected. Under his administration the interests of the corporation have greatly extended and in their furtherance Mr. Walter came into con-tact with hundreds of people of this city with whom he immediately became most popular. He had a gracious and kindly disposition, which attracted everybody to him and which always led him to be sought after in convival gatherings.

As a business man he was studiously devoted to the association which he represented and his word was as good as the most solemn f promises. His heart was centered in his family, and every comfort which he could supply was provided for them. His parting from them almost at the moment of death, because he retained consciousness up to that time, was most affecting.

Mr. Walter leaves a widow and four chil-Mr. Water leaves a whoow and four children—Emil, Stella, Fred and August. He was a member of the Knights of Honor, the Royal Arcanum, the Modern Woodmen, the American Legion of Honor, in all of which he carried life insurance. His life was also insured in several regular companies, so that a fair legacy will be left to his bereaved father is expected from Louis, to which place the remains will be con-Veyed today for interment.

George Krug, the general agent for Anheuser-Busch, has been telegraphed for, and will arrive today to superintend the funeral Leading Druggists and Grocers Sell the Excelsior Springs, Mo., waters. Always sold in bottles, never in bulk.

SOUTH OMAHA.

A Custer Man in Trouble. Thomas Wilkinson of Broken Bow, Custer county, is in the city jail waiting for friends o go on his bond for $1,500 for his appearince before Judge King December 10.

The commission firm of Parkhurst Hopper & Parker filed a complaint before the judge charging Wilkingson, on November 7, 1890, with obtaining $1,000 under raise pretenses, representing that he had a herd of horses on his place in Custer county, on which he gave a chattel mortgage to the commission firm and received $1,000.

Mr. Wilkinson said to THE BEE representa live, "That when he gave the mortgage he owned the sixteen horses and had them just where he had represented them to be; that the firm gave him permission to sell them as they had done in the other cases before and that he had offered to turn over the results of the sale to the complainants or let them go and take the horses," He (Wil-kinson) denies that he has done anything that is not honorable and as he was author

Manchester Martyrs. A preliminary meeting, to make arrange

8 REASONS. 1309

W HY WE SUCCEED IN OURENTERPRISE

Because we do as we advertise.

Because we sell goods at less than the cost of material. Because we guarantee agenuine tailor-made suit at ready-made prices

Because we guarantee a perfect fit.

Because we alter goods to fit the purchaser free of charge. Because we give the purchaser more than he anticipates for his money

Because we have the confidence of the public. Because we never allow a garment to be misrepresented.
ALL ALTERATIONS DONE FREE OF CHARGETO INSURE A PERFECT FIT.

SEE WHAT YOU CAN SAVE. ## SUITS. | FALL AND WINTER OVERCOATS, | PANTS. | $70 custom made suit for ... $32.50 | $65 custom made overcoat for ... $32.00 | $16 custom made pants for ... $7.50 | $60 custom made overcoat for ... $28.50 | $15 custom made pants for ... $7.50 | $50 custom made overcoat for $24.50 | $13 custom made pants for $6.50 $55 custom made suit for $27.50 $50 custom made suit for$25.00 $45 custom made overcoat for$20.00 $12 custom made pants for$6.00 $45 custom made suit for $20.00 $40 custom made overcoat for $17.50 $10 custom made pants for $5.00 $40 custom made sult for$18.50 | $35 custom made overcoat for$14.00 | $ 8 custom made pants for$4.50 | $28 custom made overcoat for$12.25 | $ 7 custom made pants for$3.75

FULL DRESS SUITS FOR SALE OR HIRE.

Open evenings until 9 o'clock.

Saturday evenings until 10 o'clock.

DR. MCGREW

ORIGINAL MISFIT CLOTHING PARLORS,

Farnam Street, Omaha, Neb. 1309

Before you buy anything ask two questions Before you buy anything ask two questions.

Do I really

Want it?

ANSWERED.

These questions may make you rich:

but they will never prevent you from buying SAPOLIO

Its uses are many and so are its friends; for where it is once used it is always used. To clean house without it is sheer folly, since it does the work twice as fast and twice as well.

THE STANDARD COCOA OF THE WORLD.

MOST APPETIZING-EASILY DIGESTED.

The Van Houtens process renders their cocoa easy of digestion and develops in the highest degree its delicious aroma. It is an excellent flesh-former, fifty per cent. greater than the best of other cocoas.

VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA

VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA ("once tried, always used") is the original, nurs, soluble Cocoa, invented, made and patented in Holland, and is to-day better and more soluble than any of the numerous imitations. In fact, its generally admitted all over Europe and a comparative test will easily prove that ne other Cocca equals this Enventor's in solubility, agreeable taste and nutritive qualities. "Largest sale in the world." Ask for VAN HOUTEN'S AND TARE NO OTHER.

Apollinavis

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

NOTICE.

YELLOW LABELS OF THE

APOLLINARIS COMPANY, LIM-ITED, ARE PROTECTED BY

PERPETUAL INJUNCTIONS OF

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days.

GRAY'S SPECIFIC MEDICINE.

painin the Back, Dinness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to insanity or consumption and a premature grave.

EF Full particulars in our pamphier, which we destre to send free by mailto every one. FF The Specific Medicine is sold at H per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent free by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing

THE GOODMAN DRUG CO.,

1110 FARNAM STREET, OMAHA, NEB.

On secount of counterfeits we have adopted the yellow wrapper, the only genuine.

DRINK

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS MO

"Regent" WATERS "Salin

Nature's Tonic, Diuretic and Uric Solvent.

C. B. MOORE & CO., Agis. 1515 Dodge St.

BRIGG

·PIANOS ·

inely Made, July Warranted

Marvellous in Tone

OATALOGUE FROM BOSTON OFFICE, 5 APPLETON ST.

C. L. Ericson, Local Agt, 206 N. 16th St

DR. RICHARDS

Practice Limited

to

Diseases of the Lungs

and

Nervous System.

Rooms 316 to 320 Bee Bldg

Omaha.

THE SUPREME COURT.

THE WELL-KNOWN

ments for the proper observance of the twenty-third anniversary of the execution of Allan, Laikin and O'Brien, the Manchester Walter Besant. martyrs, was held in St. Agnes' hall Sunday evening. H. Montgomery was elected chairman and T. J. O'Neil secretary. It was decided to hold suitable memorial exercises on Sunday, November 23. vember 23.

An executive committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. H. Montgomery, Patrick Sheeley, Judge King, Jeremiah Howard, Judge Joseph J. Breen, B. S. Adams, Michael P. O'Connor, Timothy Maloney, Richard Swift, T. J. O'Neill, John Burns, Robert Parks and Thomas Dowling. Judge King, T. J. O'Neill and Morgan Heafey were appointed a committee on printing. The executive committee will meet in Judge office, N and Twenty-sixth streets, Wednesday evening.

Child Baldly Scalded. A young child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perry, Albright, Sunday afternoon fell into a pan of hot water and was badly Prompt aid was secured to allevi ate the little one's sufferings.

Notes About the City. Alfred M. Keenan has gone to Yellow-

There will be a Presbytsrian Congregaional meeting in the church at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. The North Star Scandinavian society will give a dance and reception in the Nazional hall Saturday evening, the 29th. Eggers & Bock, who have received the con tract to build the new building on 'N street, east of Twenty-fourth street, for the J. H. Evans laundry company, will commence work

Henry Michel, proprietor of the Brown park hotel, states that the persons who com-mitted the outrage on Mr. and Mrs. Benson, on Twenty-fourth street, were not at his hotel. Mr. Benson confirms Mr. Michel and states that the parties came from a house on O street.

National hall was the scene, Saturday evening, of a Bohemian custom that afforded pleasure to a large number of the people of that nationality. To celebrate the event of their marriage Charles Becoar and Miss Antonio Strueh invited their friends to a feast and dance. A pleasanter evening could not have been desired by the newly wedded pair or their friends.

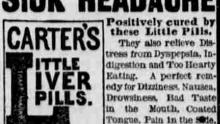

Waste no money. Buy Salvation Oil. It kills all pain. Price twenty-five cents a bot-Catherine Lewis fainted one night in "Olivette," but it didn't cause a ripple in the play. 'Twas only a cough and they had a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup on hand, of course.

County Court. The Merchants National bank has brought suit in the county court to recover $608 on a promissory note, executed by Morris Morri-

J. W. Butter paper company vs J. C. Wilcox, $992; Muir & Gaylord vs John Mulverhill, $1,000; Smith vs Smith, $410. The Omaha lumber company has sued E E. Lynn et al for the foreclosure of a mort-gage given to secure a note of $386. The note was given in payment of a bill of lumber. SICK HEADACHE in the Mouth, Conte Tongue, Pain in the Ste. TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

STRICTURE Permanently cured without pala or instruments; no cutting; no dilating. The most remarkable remod? known to modern science. Write for circulars. SYPHILIS

CURED IN SO TO SO DAYS. Dr. McGrow's treatment for this terrible blood dis-ease has been pronounced the most powerful and successful remedy ever discovered for the absolute cure of this disease. His success with this disease has never been equalled. A complete CURE GUAR-ANTEED. Write for circulars.

THE SPECIALIST.

PRIVATE DISEASES.

LOST MANHOOD and all weakness of the sexual organs, nervousness, timidity and despendency absolutely cured. There-lief is immediate and complete. SKIN DISEASES.

atarrh, rheumatism, and all diseases of the blood FEMALE DISEASES and neuralgia, nervousness and diseases of the stemach cured. The Doctor's "Home Treatment" for ladies is pronounced by all who have used it, to be the most complete and convenient remedy ever offered for the treatment of female diseases. It is truly a wonderful remedy. No instruments; no pain. Hours for Ladies Flow 2704 ONLY.

DR. McGREW'S

marvelous success has won for him a reputation which is truly national in character, and his great army of patients reaches from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The Doctor is a graduate of "HEGULAR" medicine and has had long and careful a week of the control of th medicine and has had long and careful experience in hospital practice, and is classed among the leading specialists in modern science. Treatment by corre-spondence. Write for circulars about each of the above diseases, First.

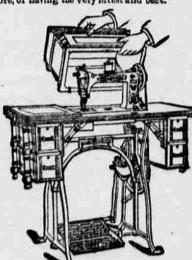

Office, 14th and Farnam Sts Entrance on either street. THE FIGURE "9."

The figure 9 in our dates will make a long stay. No man or woman now living will ever date a Jocument without using the figure 9. It stands in the third place in 1890, where it will remain ten years and then move up to second place in 1900, where it will rest for one hundred years.

There is another "9" which has also come to stay. It is unlike the figure 9 in our dates in the respect that it has already moved up to first place, where it will permanently remain. It is called the "No. 9" High Arm Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

The "No. 9" was endorsed for first place by the experts of Europe at the Paris Exposition of 1889, where, after a severe contest with the leading ma-chines of the world, it was awarded the only Grand Prize given to family sewing machines, all others on exhibit having received lower awards of gold medals, etc. The French Government also recognized its superiority by the decoration of Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, President of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

The "No. 9" is not an old machine improved but is an entirely new machine, and the Grand Prize at Paris was awarded it as the grandest advance in sewing machine mechanism of the age. Those who buy it can rest assured, there fore, of having the very latest and best.

WHEELER & WILSON M'F'G CO., 185 and 187 Wabash Ave., Chicago. E. P. FLOODMAN,

SCOTT'S

always

of pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda is almost as palatable as milk. Children enjoy it rather than otherwise. A MARVELLOUS FLESH PRODUCER it is indeed, and the little lads and lassies who take cold easily, may be fortified against a cough that might prove serious, by taking Scott's Emulsion after their meals during the winter season.

Beceare of substitutions and imitatio